

U. S. WOMEN AID FRENCH SISTERS IN WELFARE WORK

Plan Model Homes for Employed Women of Paris and Other Industrial Centres.

PARIS, Jan. 31.—The women of France, aided by the practical advice and guidance of American women, have undertaken a big programme to promote the welfare of French workingwomen. Conferences on the subject have been held under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. They were attended by French women who are leaders of organizations, such as Mme. Jules Siegfried Jr., Mme. Pichon, Baroness Watville and Mme. Landry and a score of American women.

A number of plans were adopted to administer the needs of French womanhood arising out of the war. They include model homes for employed women in Paris and in big French industrial centres, and women's hotels at the chief French ports where they may await for vessels to sail, hotels for French women students and homes for philanthropic civic work and clubs after the style of the women's university clubs and the Colony Club of New York.

In these plans Miss Constance Clark, Pasadena, Cal.; Miss Edna Sandlin, Montgomery, Ala.; and Miss Young of Charlotte, N. C., are taking an active part. Mrs. Robert Lansing and Mrs. William G. Sharp attended the sessions. The war has brought the women of the Allied nations together," said Mrs. Lansing, "because we have suffered and worked together, and we must not lose this sisterhood now that peace has come."

Sergt. Thomas Sweeney Brought in Wounded While Enemy Guns Roared.

FIRST SERGT. THOMAS JOSEPH SWEENEY of Company A, 165th Infantry, a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Sweeney of No. 241 West 16th Street, this city, has been awarded the Distinguished Service Cross "for extraordinary heroism in action near London-et-St. Georges, France, Oct. 15, 1918." ## M'ADOO SAYS U. S. CONTROL OF ROADS AIDS WATERWAYS

1,200,000 Tons of Freight Moved on New York Barge Canal in 1918.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Solution of the rail-water controversy—a contest in intra-State trade of more than fifty years standing—by "developing transportation on the waterways and coordinating and articulating them with a unified railway system," is proposed by Director General of Railroads McAdoo in the chapter of his annual report, as Director General of Railroads, devoted to inland waterways. The report was made public today.

"This is possible with the railways under Federal control," Mr. McAdoo asserts. "I doubt if any of our rivers or canals will become active factors of transportation if the railroads are turned back to private control. The old methods of railway competition with the waterways doubtless will be revived and the waterway experiment may not be able to survive that competition."

Despite the lack of Canadian trade and westward movement of imports from New York City due to the war, movement of freight on the New York barge canal in 1918, according to the report, approximated 1,200,000 tons, about the same as in 1917.

No Alcohol or Dangerous Drugs.
